

TAILORING.

ALEXANDER ROY, having studied the art of cutting to fit the human form, under the most eminent professors of that art in Europe and the United States, trusts by strict attention to business and the faithful fulfillment of all orders entrusted to his care, to merit a liberal share of public patronage.
Kosciusko, June 2, 1838.—1-x

NOTICE.

ON a final settlement between W. E. Smith, the former publisher of the Democrat, and myself, all the books, notes and accounts not settled have been transferred to me. I have assumed all the debts of the old concern, and all the sums due it are to be paid to me alone. Mr. Smith, having from this day, nothing more to do with the settlement of the business. As I cannot attend in person to the business, I shall be necessarily compelled to put a large amount of the notes and accounts unpaid, in the hands of an officer for collection. The debts of the old concern must be paid forthwith, and I hope all those indebted to it will be prompt in discharging their dues.

LARGE MAPS OF MISSISSIPPI AND ALABAMA.

SHOWING the public and Indian Lands, Indian Reservations, Land Districts, Townships, streams, &c. engraved from the Government surveys and plans in the General Land Office, Washington city: by E. Gilman, Draughtsman in the General Land Office.

F. TAYLOR, Bookseller, Washington city, has just published (and secured the copyright according to law) of the above Maps, which will be found infinitely more complete and accurate than any heretofore published on separate sheets; each containing nearly six square feet, and will be found especially useful and valuable to those interested in the lands of either State, as they show every item of information which is in the possession of the land offices, relative to water courses, township lines, Indian lands and reservations, land districts, &c. and will be found perfectly accurate and precise in these points. They can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, subject only to letter postage. Price two dollars, or three copies of either will be sent by mail for five dollars. A liberal discount will be made to travelling agents, or to any who buy to sell again.
*Editors of newspapers, any where, who will give the above advertisement (including this notice) one two insertions, shall receive by return mail a copy of each map, if they will send a copy of the paper containing it to the advertiser.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NOXUBEE TIMES, AND MISSISSIPPI GENERAL ADVERTISER.

The subscriber proposes publishing in the town of Macon, Noxubee County, Miss., a weekly newspaper with the above title, to be devoted to politics and general intelligence.

The rapid influx of emigration, increasing business, growing wealth, and political character of Noxubee County, seem to demand the establishment of a democratic press. The result of the late elections prove the county to be decidedly democratic in political faith, and the impetus which the establishment of a corresponding organ would add to the success of the party, as well as the general growth and prosperity of the town and county in which it is located, all ready to acknowledge.

The policy of the great democratic party, maintained by Jefferson and exemplified in the administration of Jackson, experience has proved to be the only course by which the United States can hope to prosper, and the present Chief Magistrate of the nation shall prove true to the principles of those Apostles of Democracy—to the doctrines contained in his inaugural address—and to the sentiments expressed in all other documents which have yet appeared bearing his signature, he shall receive our unqualified support. The Whig party are now making a mighty struggle to gain the ascendancy, and in their destructive march are trying to ride roughshod over the heads of government, regardless of the means they use to gain their unhallowed ends. We shall ever be on the alert to detect and expose their covert designs, and shall oppose the new-fangled doctrines of the opposition in every shape in which they may make their advances.

We are opposed to either a National or a Treasury Bank, and concur in the recommendation of President Van Buren in his Message to the called session of Congress, for a separation of the government from all banking institutions whatever—believing that the collection, safe-keeping and disbursement of the revenue can be safely done in the constitutional currency through government officers appointed for the purpose. In short, we shall exert all our energies to advance the democratic cause, the peculiar tenets of which are too well known to require repetition: it is opposed to every infringement upon equal rights—to partial legislation—to all corporations, monopolies and monied institutions allied to the aristocracy of wealth in opposition to the democracy of number, and having in their nature a tendency to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

The contracted and narrow-minded policy which looks with envy on the prosperity of every thing beyond its immediate neighborhood we cannot recognize. Although Noxubee and the new counties will receive our more particular attention, an eye will be had to the welfare of the whole State.

Aside from politics, the Times shall contain such a variety of local and foreign news, commercial and literary intelligence, humorous miscellany, anecdotes, &c. as cannot fail to make it an interesting journal to all. Newspapers will be received from every State in the Union, and from all the principal cities—which, with other facilities for the earliest and best variety of news, will enable us to lay before our subscribers one of the most valuable weekly sheets issued from the southern press. Agriculture will receive particular attention; the state of the Cotton Market, and all items of intelligence that may prove acceptable to the planter, shall be diligently gathered for his use.

The Noxubee Times and Mississippi General Advertiser will be printed on hand some paper, with new type, and furnished to subscribers at Five Dollars per annum in advance, or Six Dollars at the end of the year. All Postmasters are authorized to act as Agents.

PROSPECTUS OF BESANCON'S ANNUAL REGISTER

OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, FOR 1838.—To contain an Almanac calculated for the meridian of the State; Sketches of the early history of the State Constitution; the names of the County and State officers; the names of Banks, with their official boards, &c.; population of the counties and towns, with their distances from the public buildings, churches, hotels, and manufactories of the principal towns; incorporated rail road companies with their official boards, amount of the localities of their rail roads, commenced or in contemplation; colleges, academies and seminaries, with date of their incorporation, annual names of president, professors or principals and number of students or pupils; the election precincts, post offices, creeks, lakes, bayous; description of the or artificial curiosities; list of churches, religious denominations, with the names of the clergymen and the number of members belonging to each; tables of the production in various years; a corrected map of the Indian names of counties, and rivers in the Chickasaw and Chickasaw, with a mass of valuable information relating to the soil, agriculture, resources, productions of the new counties, as the State at large.—To which will be a complete sectional map of the State, showing the divisions, course of streams and location of county seats in the new counties.

The necessity of an annual volume, this as a book of reference to every engaged in business, as well as to the and speculators, will be apparent to all. It is needed to develop the resources of the State; to give useful information to the grant, and to embody, in an accessible pass, such valuable statistics as can be obtained from no other source.

Laying aside the considerations of the feeling of State pride would be a motive to sustain a publication calculated to show, at a view, the people agricultural wealth and almost boundless resources of the State. The annual publication of the Register (the continuation of which depends upon the patronage of the State) will give the publisher ample opportunity to keep it up with the improvements of the State, and make his volumes the annals of the advance of society in its various pursuits, in the arts, in education, that embellishes life.

The publisher has been at the expense of sending an agent into every county of the State to obtain accurate statistics, which he could rely. He has also made arrangements to have the State map engraved by a distinguished artist in the city. He has only to look to the public for reimbursement of his expenses, and for sufficient patronage to enable him to continue the Register; but, at the same time, he asks any favor that may not be obtained by the intrinsic merit and value of the Register.

He commends his enterprise to all of his fellow citizens, to judges, clerks, registers, and those State officers who may have valuable information for compilation, and whose interest it may communicate the same for publication. All matter for compilation which they are desirous of forwarding the Register, should be transmitted previous to the first day of November next. The Register will be printed with type, on fine paper, in the duodecimo with more than two hundred pages, bound like the American Almanac, and annuals of the class. The price of the Register, including sectional map of the State, to subscribers will be $5, payable on delivery of the volume. Large discounts will be made to agents, or who purchase it to sell again. A limited number of advertising space will be appended to the Register for the use of friends who may desire that their advertisements to penetrate every part of the State. Terms of advertising $1 per line. All orders for the work, and all communications containing special information, incorporated in the Register, may be sent to the compiler and publisher.

party, which is inseparable from the political department of such a work, will have no place. Here we all stand on a neutral ground of equality and reciprocity, where these universal principles of taste to which we are all alike subject, will alone be recognized as the common law. Our political principles cannot be compromised, but our common literature it will be our common pride to cherish and extend, with a liberality of feeling unbiassed by partial or minor views.

As the United States Magazine is founded on the broadest basis which the means and influence of the democratic party in the United States can present, it is intended to render it in every respect a thoroughly National Work, not merely designed for ephemeral interest and attraction, but to continue of permanent historical value. With this view a considerable portion of each number will be appropriated to the following subjects, in addition to the general features referred to above.

A general summary of political and domestic intelligence, digested in the order of the States, comprising all the authentic important facts of the preceding month.

General literary intelligence, domestic and foreign.

General scientific intelligence, including agricultural improvements, a notice of all new patents, &c.

A condensed account of all new works of improvement throughout the Union.

Military and Naval news, promotions, changes, movements, &c.

Biographical obituary notices of distinguished persons.

After the close of each session of Congress an extra or an enlarged number will be published, containing a general review and history of its proceedings, a condensed abstract of important official documents, and the acts of the session.

To promote the popular objects in view, and relying upon the united support of the democratic party, as well as from others, the price of subscription is fixed at the low rate of Five Dollars per annum; while in mechanical arrangements, and in size, quality of matter, &c. the United States Magazine will be placed on a par at least with the leading monthlies of England. The whole will form three large octavo volumes each year.

The subscription will be in all cases payable in advance, or (for the first year only) six dollars on the delivery of the third number. The absolute necessity of this rule in such an establishment will be obvious to all.

In return for a remittance of $50, eleven copies will be sent; for $100, twenty-three copies. The certificate of a post-master of the remittance of a sum of money will be a sufficient receipt, all dangers of the mail being at the risk of the publishers.

All communications will be addressed, post paid, to the publishers.

W. A. G. T. & O'SULLIVAN.
Washington, March, 1838.
Subscriptions will be received at this Office.

We shall endeavor to make those who glers, the Bachelors, heave to—show them the advantages of the proper "companion-way," recommending a double state-room, with births, &c.

We shall send our boat aboard Theatricals and other amusements; those pretty pleasure-boats, which make our passage over the lake of life so delightful. Dancing we shall especially encourage; as we conceive that the safety of a vessel often depends upon keeping both pumps going.

On first launching the "Picayune" we promised to carry a press of sail in case we were warranted by a sale from the press.—Through all the storms which have raged since she first sailed she has borne up under full sails, without ever being taken back; and is now ranked A. 1. at all the insurance and other offices of the city. Our policy still holds good, and we never intend it shall run out.

Dropping our figure, and returning to plain language, we will now add that we intend to make the Picayune a vehicle of fun, wit, humor and sentiment, and a little of every thing that's going on. It shall be our delight to crack jokes, to tell stories in our own way, to ridicule folly, and to correct the manners of the age by exciting laughter against them. In this, however, we shall endeavor to avoid that licentiousness which vainly seeks to benefit the public by wounding the feelings of individuals.

A portion of our paper will be occupied with comprehensive notices of all passing events—giving the pith of the news of the day, without burdensome details.

We eschew partisan politics; yet we shall continue to express our opinions impartially on all public measures. Follies in government as well as in social life are open to ridicule; and when the humor seizes us, we shall not spare them on whichever party the censure may fall.

All local occurrences of general interest shall be promptly noticed, so that our distant readers may see at a glance the miniature world which is congregated in theemporium.

With this expose of our intentions, and determined to endeavor with unremitting industry to fulfil them, we look with confidence for a continuance of that patronage which has hitherto been so cordially extended to us.

The "Weekly Picayune" will be published every Monday morning, at $5 00 per annum, payable in all cases in advance; and will contain four additional columns, embracing all the news of the week, with whatever of interest transpires on Sunday.

Those persons at a distance who will procure four subscribers, and send us a $20 bill, shall be entitled to one copy gratis.

SOUTH-WESTERN JOURNAL.

A MAGAZINE OF SCIENCE, LITERATURE & MISCELLANY. Published Semi-Monthly, by the Jefferson College and Washington Lyceum.

THE extensive and growing interest of the South-West, its moral and social improvement, and its increasing literary and scientific demands, have awakened attention to the fact that in this highly important portion of our country there is no journal or paper so exclusively devoted to literature and science, advocating the doctrines of no party.

Feeling the necessity of such a paper, the Jefferson College and Washington Lyceum have commenced the publication of a periodical entitled "THE SOUTH-WESTERN JOURNAL," to be devoted to literature and science, and all subjects interesting to the general reader.

It is published semi-monthly in the city of Natchez, and contains sixteen small quarto pages, similar in form to the "Penny Magazine," and in protected by a good envelope, so that it may be conveyed to any distance without injury.

It will be remembered that we have no work in the South-West similar to this; and every one who feels a pride in any enterprise calculated to enhance the social and moral character of our country, should come forward and assist in this worthy enterprise.

Pecuniary emolument constitutes no part of the object of this publication. It is not intended to benefit any individual or the Lyceum in a pecuniary point of view. The sole object is to advance knowledge and diffuse a taste for the refined enjoyments of literature and science.

Nothing is now wanting to the accomplishment of the wishes of the Lyceum; and it is expected that this patronage will be promptly and cheerfully extended.

All communications in reference to the periodical should be addressed, post paid, to Professor J. A. VAN HOESSEN, the Secretary of the Lyceum, Natchez, Mississippi. The subscription price $5 00, in all cases in advance.

The first number of this paper is dated December 15, 1837, and it will be continued semi-monthly from that date.

G. V. H. FORBES, J. S. B. THATCHER, C. G. FORSHEY, S. C. MERWIN, J. A. VAN HOESSEN.

Executive Committee of the Jefferson College and Washington Lyceum.

The SOUTH-WESTERN JOURNAL is printed on two sheets, making 16 pages to each number; the postage on which, for one hundred miles or less, is two cents—over one hundred miles three cents. By a decision of the Postmaster General, the cover is viewed as a wrapper, and subject to no postage.
